Andrew Ng's Al companies expand to Medellin, Colombia

Frederic Lardinois @fredericl / 8:00 am -05 • August 21, 2019

After his tenure as chief scientist at Baidu, Andrew Ng, the founder of the Google Brain project and former CEO of Coursera, set up a number of different projects that all focus on making Al more approachable. These include the education startup Deeplearning.ai, the Al Fund startup studio for building Al companies and Landing.ai, which helps enterprises (and especially manufacturing companies) use Al. Today, Ng announced he has opened a second office for these projects in Medellin, Colombia.
